WENT OVER THE FENCE.

AN INTERESTING MANUEVER BY THE FLAGSHIP TROOPS.

Getting the Battalion Over a Seven Foot Wall—An Accident to One Man.

The Philadelphia battalion landed at 8 o'clock this morning and had regular drill at Makiki. On the way out and returning skirmish drill was gone through with, each street crossing being closed while the battalion marched through. The drill at the baseball ground was very interesting and was witnessed by a number of people.

On the way back the wall on the King street side of Kawailono church was scaled by the entire battalion. Several hundred people witnessed that part of the drill. The sailors took to the wall on double quick and bounded over with great ease. The wall was crossed over eight times. The average time made was 28 seconds. Blue jackets were specially active. There were no accidents in the way of falls. Private Smith of the marine corps, while going over, accidentally sprang upon a rifle and received the muzzle upon the mouth. Two teeth were knocked out, one piercing through his lower lip. He did not give in, however, but marched with his company to the boat landing.

In scaling the wall the guns are first laid against it. Then two men in every squad make a list of their hands. The remainder go up this ladder. The last man hands up the guns before scaling.

They Passed.

Captain White and Second Lieutenant Jacobson of Company B underwent examinations for commissions last Friday and Tuesday respectively. The papers have gone to the President with recommendations that the commissions be issued.

FOR HAWAIIANS.

The Practical Relief Work of Mrs. T. R. Foster.

On Liliha street there is a co-operative poi shop. Mrs. T. R. Foster is the patroness of the enterprise. Taro grown by natives is brought there and prepared, then sold at a bottom figure to the persons intended to be benefited. Outsiders must pay the same as charged at the Chinese shops. At the Co-operative there is also kept tea, sugar, and a few of the house-keeping necessities.

It has been reported lately that Mrs. Foster proposed back a large co-operative store to be started at a good location on King street. This has not been developed yet. There exists, however, a purchasing hui over which Mrs. Foster exercises a supervision. All this work the lady undertakes for the benefit of Hawaiians.

Six hot baths for $1 at J. Ashworth's model barber shop, No. 30 King street.

Will Have Enough.

The proceeds of the lecture at Drill Shed tomorrow evening will more than complete the amount required for new instruments for the band on Molokai. The excess will be held as a fund for the purchase of music.

His Last Week.

Shaw, the gold wire artist, has a new lot of solid and rolled gold wire work prepared for his last week at the Temple or Fashion. Everybody is cordially invited to come and see this novelty. Remember that Monday, April 22 will be the last opportunity.

Charged With Mischief.

Three band boys were interviewed by Marshal Brown yesterday afternoon. They were suspected of being the persons who have been dislocating gates and committing other misdeeds around town of late. One of them pleaded guilty to having filled the sugar bowl in a Chinese restaurant with salt, but denied having broken any gates or lost Jas. Steiner's fowls.

Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people, who realize the importance of the blood in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases blood is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

TWISTS THE FIGURES.

HE SEEKS TO DAMAGE THE RE-PUBLIC'S EXCELLENT CREDIT.

Makes a Statement That is Clearly Wrong and Harmful—It is About the Cash Balance.

EDITOR STAR: Capt. Julius A. Palmer appears to be challenging anyone to point out inaccuracies of statement in his correspondence.

His misstatements are multitudinous. I will content myself now with naming a single instance in his telegraphed letter to the New York Evening Post, dated Honolulu, March 20, in which Mr. Palmer seeks to damage the financial credit of this Government by denouncing as fraudulent the "alleged" available cash balance of from $200,000 to $300,000 appearing in the weekly Treasury report, because, as he says, over $300,000 of silver certificates are in circulation, which are chargeable against that apparent balance, and are liable at any time to exhaust it.

Conspicuous in the aforesaid weekly reports, one of which was doubtless lying before Captain Palmer when he wrote, appears the statement of the amount of a special coin deposit in the treasury to meet the outstanding silver certificates, dollar for dollar, a coin deposit which is sacred to the redemption of the certificates, and has no connection with the treasury balances. It is difficult to see how the Post correspondent could possibly have avoided the knowledge of that fact. If he did not make his misstatement deliberately and maliciously, he must have a rare faculty for blundering.

A place to spend a few quiet hours is the Hanalei Baths. Waikiki cars pass the door.

CONVENTION.

Called to Nominate a Candidate for the House.

Chairman James A. Kennedy today puts forth the call for a special session of the October last A. U. P. convention. The body adjourned subject to the chair's call, and had adopted the rule that vacancies were to be referred to it. This election is a Fourth District affair. It concerns, as to organization, the First, Second, Third and Fourth clubs. The nomination is made by these clubs in sub-convention, then ratified by the entire convention. The territory of the district making the nomination is that part of the island on the Waikiki side of Nuuanu avenue, extended to Moku point. Thus the attendance of country or Club 5 delegates is not essential, though all are invited and those in town are especially urged to be present. The convention will be held next Tuesday evening at the party headquarters, American League hall.

A Land Sale Tomorrow.

Tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon, at his salesroom, Queen street, Jas. F. Morgan will sell at public auction three residence lots at Kamaoka, near Liliha street. The lots are part of the former Buckle homestead and are situated on a road connecting with Liliha street. The extension of Kukui street to Liliha will pass close to these lots, and will enhance their value.

Judge Cooper and Judiciary Clerk Henry Smith have both recovered from their recent illness and are at their respective posts again.

PIPER IN TROUBLE.

The Native "Admiral" Gets Into a Very Lively Fight.

"Admiral" Kaubane, the crazy native who imitates man o' war piping, got into trouble on Nuuanu street at noon. He ate at a Chinese restaurant and forgot to pay for his lunch. A Chinaman went after him. The two clinched. The "Admiral" punched John in the face, shoved him against the house and dragged him along the ground by his cue. Several other Chinamen ran up and took a hand in the fight. The tables turned. The "Admiral" was choked, his cap was torn and he was kicked in the stomach. A Portuguese stopped the racket.

VAGARIES OF VON KROWN.

AN INSANE MAN WHO HAS MADE HIMSELF INTERESTING.

Has Strange Ideas of High Art—Due Reverence for the Cross—Will Now Be Locked Up.

Count Thomas Von Krown, the dark and mysterious gardener of the Hawaiian Hotel, is again in trouble. A few days ago he was arrested for clubbing a woman, and got off with a fine of $12. A charge of insanity was also made, but was not sustained by the examining physician. Last night the man was on the hotel grounds again. Ladies on the premises became greatly frightened at the reappearance of the terror, and petitioned Col. Macfarlane to have him taken away. The station house was rung up, but in the meantime Von Krown had gone. At the request of guests Col. Macfarlane then addressed a note to the marshal, asking that the case be looked into and stating that the man was insane. Accompanying this was a statement of Dr. Winslow, of the U. S. F. S. Philadelphia, giving his opinion that Von Krown was insane and should not be permitted to go at large.

Von Krown has been in the count seven or eight years. He was at one time employed by the Makiki forester. This was in Kalauea's time. Since then he has worked at odd jobs on small pay, seeming to care nothing for money. He is noted for the habit of talking to himself. While at work on the hotel grounds he would frequently stop and engage in a wild harangue with some imaginary personage. When through he would turn his face to the heavens and act as if seeking endorsement of his arguments from that source. In some of these one-sided debates he would become greatly agitated and remain in an excited frame of mind for hours.

At the Hotel no one knew what the mysterious man had in his room, or anything of his private life. A great deal of curiosity was sometimes aroused, however, especially when he was seen to carry paint, putty and other queer material into his sleeping apartment. The officer who served the warrant upon him last week had to break the door in to reach him and then the mysteries of his chamber were disclosed. His paraphernalia was found to be as queer and problematical as the man himself. A few articles of clothing and several works of art, chiefly models, constituted his earthly belongings. In his models the cross is very conspicuous. One, a large cross, is thickly covered with miniature crosses, all in bright colors.

He has two crowns, one representing the German Emperor's and the other Kalakaua's. They were made to fit the head of Von Krown himself, and he claimed to be an heir to both of them. The crowns are ornamented with the everpresent cross. Another curiosity is a large medallion in black representing the tomb of the late Frederick Wilhelm. A picture of Frederick adorns the top. Pasted on either side is a poem written by von Krown eulogizing his subject.

The most complicated idea, however, is found in a second large medallion. Over the center is a picture of Jesus Christ. Below is a cross. Still further down is a picture of the human heart, evidently clipped from a work on physiology. To the right is the picture of an angel, and on the left one representing Maud Muller. Between all these are clippings from an American newspaper, with cuts, describing the home of the Vanderbilts in New York. The work in all of these models is of high order, though the idea is ever so vague.

G. H. Mumm & Co.'s Extra Dry Champagne is the purest and best and is the leading brand in the world's markets. The importations into the United States for the year 1894 were over 100,000 cases. Macfarlane & Co. are sole agents for these islands.

HAS BEEN RAINING.

PLENTY OF WATER IN THE HILLS AND VALLEYS.

Power for Street Lighting—Reservoirs and Streams—The Roads are Muddy.

The rains of the past few days have somewhat altered the appearance of the hills and valleys. It seems odd to see Andrew Brown or John Cassidy driving along the dusty streets in town with the outfit of a traveler in the rain and with their horses and brakes and clothing splattered with mud. Rarely in so short a time has there been so much rain in the hills. The three waterfalls in Manoa, and the rise in the underground Ena laka have been mentioned.

Luckily, Nuuanu valley has had its full share of the rainfall. In consequence the reservoirs are all well filled. Power for the street lights for an almost indefinite period is assured. A number of electric lights have been provided for the drill shed this evening. One report from the Luakaha vicinity, (unofficial), is that there were five inches of rain in twenty-four hours. In any event the basins are full, the streams and ditches overrunning their banks and the roads in a frightfully muddy condition. People who travel up the valley are complaining again about the road, and an effort is to be made to remedy the trouble.

Y. H. L.'s Will Sing.

The choir of the Young Hawaiians Institute will sing at the Stereopticon entertainment tomorrow evening. This choir is composed of a half dozen of the best vocalists in the city, who have delighted many audiences. Among their selections will be: "Take me back to home and Mother," "Akali hoi" and "Pua Aikake." Other airs will be appropriately interspersed.

FIELD TRAINING.

Sham Battle Drilling by Company E.

N. G. H.

Thirty-two men of Company E. were taken to Kakaako at 1:30 this afternoon and had a little battle all to themselves. Captain Good was in command. Lieutenant King had charge of the support and First Sergeant Moore of first firing line. Four life-size paintings of men, the works of Lieutenant King, on sheets of card-board were posted at a distance. These were "the enemy." After the regular drill the company went through battle movements.

Had a House.

Sequah had an audience of about 500 at the Beretania street armory last night. The Quintette Club was in attendance and gave a fine concert. Sequah entertained his audience with talk as well as telling of the virtues of his medicines and disposing of the same.
